On the Death of Lieutenant David E. Hale, by Mrs. L. H. Sigourney, 32

Public Education, 51
Poetry, by Eliza Earle, 70
Papers on the Old English Essayists, by A. Stevens, A. M., 110
Primary Schools, by Mrs. L. H. Sigourney, 219
Parisian Customs, by Paul de Kock, 271

Retrospection, by P. K. Kilbourn, 207
Romantic Incidents in British History, by W. J. Walter, 220

Summer Fancies, by Miss A. D. Woodbridge, 16
Sea Sketches, 69
Sister, thou wast mild and lovely, set to Music, 90
Sketches of Character—The Hearty Lady, 93
Self-Educating Teachers, by Mrs. L. H. Sigourney, 140
Sigh Not, by H. W. Ellsworth, 229
Something from the Old School, by Professor W. J. Walter, 252
Sentiment, 268
Some Thoughts on Works of Fiction, 279
Sabbath Meditations, by Mrs. L. H. Sigourney, 277

To a very Young Boy, by Mary R. Mitford, 4
The Perception of the Beautiful, by Mrs. L. H. Sigourney, 9
The Dying Poet, by Mrs. Cornwell Baron Wilson, 11
The Opal Ring, by Mrs. Seba Smith, 12, 58
The Altars of a Household, by Miss Mary W. Hale, 18
The Travelling Artist, by Miss A. M. F. Buchanan, 19
The Traveller at the Red Sea, by Miss H. F. Gould, 24
The Wife and Sister, by Mrs. Mary H. Parsons, 27, 70
Talent—A Tale, by Mrs. M. St. Leon Loud, 33
The Tree of the Village where I Live, by Mrs. Hofland, 37
The Roman Duel, by H. W. Herbert, 49
The Disguise, by Jas. T. Fields, 52
The Abyssinian Neophyte, by Mrs. Car. Lee Hentz, 61
The Tyrolean Lovers, by W. Landor, 77
Thoughts in Despondency, by Isaac C. Pray, 80
The Young Artist, by J. H. Ingraham, 81, 113
Taste, by Mrs. L. H. Sigourney, 88

The Valley, by Professor W. J. Walter, 89
The Waters of Life, by James Montgomery, 93
The Kind Neighbour, by Mrs. L. H. Sigourney, 94
'Tis My Wife and Infant Boy, 108
To Miss Christiana ——, of Philadelphia, by Professor W. J. Walter, 108
The Disappointed Manœuvrer, by Miss S. Holland, 124, 147
The Withered Rose Bud, set to Music, 134
Tired of Housekeeping, by T. S. Arthur, 136
The Sabbath, by the Hon. A. H. Everett, 145
Thou art indeed Light Hearted, by John S. Dusolle, 156
The Second Bell, by L. A. Wilmer, 164
The Philosophy of Winter, by Professor W. J. Walter, 169
The Eldest Daughter, by Mrs. L. H. Sigourney, 169
The Lost and Wept, by Thos. G. Spear, 187
The Arm-Chair of Tustenuggee, by W. Gilmore Simms, 193
The Foundling, by Mrs. J. Thayer, 202
To My Wife, by Seba Smith, 218
The Widow's Charge at her Daughter's Bridal, by Mrs. L. H. Sigourney, 224
The Gamblers, 225
The Red Haired Belle, by Miss A. M. F. Buchanan, 229
The Grandame and Her Pet, by Professor W. J. Walter, 236
The Mother and Daughter, by Mrs. Mary H. Parsons, 242
Temperance, 252
The Wilful One, by Miss E. A. Dupuy, 253
The Escape, by Mrs. Lydia H. Sigourney, 264
The Voice of June, 268
The Island of Madeira, by A. A. Harwood, Esq., 269
The Particular Lady, 277
To the Rainbow, by Isaac C. Pray, 280
The Dying Wife, by Dr. O. H. Costill, 280

Valeria, 276

We Ne'er Forget Our Childhood's Home, by Miss C. H. Waterman, 26
Woman, 76
Winter's Fete, by Mrs. L. H. Sigourney, 97
Where are the Dead? 109
Winter Evening Amusements at Home, by Mrs. S. J. Hale, 120

Ye are Forgotten, by Miss C. H. Waterman, 68

EMBELLISHMENTS.

JANUARY.

Coloured Fashions.
Lace Work.
Music.
Uncoloured Fashions.

FEBRUARY.

Coloured Fashions.
The Disguise—Engraved on Steel.
Music.

MARCH.

Coloured Fashions.
Fac Similes of the Writing of Miss Martineau, Miss Sedgwick, Lady Byron, and her daughter Ada.

APRIL.

Coloured Fashions.
The Palace of the Tuilleries—Engraved on Steel.
Music.

MAY.

Coloured Fashions.
Uncoloured do.
Warming the Mitten—Engraved on Steel.
Music.

JUNE.

Coloured Fashions.
Steel Engraving.
Music.